A HEARTY STEW TO CELEBRATE ST. PAT'S

Green beer and decor may get all the attention, but for hosts looking to wow their St. Patrick's Day guests or astound their loved ones, a traditional Irish recipe can become an annual tradition. Celebrate the luck o' the Irish with this St. Patrick's Day Stew, a hearty, beefy meal loaded with chuck stew meat, potatoes, carrots, onions and, of course, stout beer.

St. Patrick's Day Stew

Recipe adapted from Simply Recipes

Prep time: 30 minutes

Cook time: 1 hour, 40 minutes

Servings: 6

- 1 1/4 pounds marbled chuck beef stew meat, cut into 1 1/2-inch chunks
- 1 teaspoon salt, plus additional to taste, divided
- 1/4 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 6 garlic cloves, minced
- 4 cups beef stock
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup extra stout beer
- 1 cup red wine
- 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon dried thyme
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 bay leaves
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 large onion, chopped

- 4 carrots, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
- 3 pounds russet potatoes, peeled and cut into 1/2-inch pieces
- freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley

Sprinkle beef chunks with 1 teaspoon salt. In large pot over medium-high heat, heat olive oil.

Pat beef dry with paper towels and add to pot, working in batches to avoid crowding pot. Cook until browned on one side then flip and brown.

Add garlic cloves to pot with beef and saute 30 seconds, or until fragrant. Add beef stock, water, beer, wine, tomato paste, sugar, thyme, Worcestershire sauce and bay leaves. Stir.

Bring mixture to simmer then reduce heat to low. Cover and simmer 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

In separate pot over medium heat, melt butter. Add onions and carrots; saute until golden, about 15 minutes.

After beef mixture simmers 1 hour, add onions, carrots and potatoes. Season with salt and pepper, to taste. Simmer uncovered until beef and vegetables are tender, about 40 minutes. Discard bay leaves and spoon excess fat.

Sprinkle with parsley and serve.

SMWD EARNS STATEWIDE EXCELLENCE IN IT PRACTICES AWARD

SMWD received a statewide IT excellence award recognizing the technology systems that support reliable water and wastewater services for customers.

Santa Margarita Water District (SMWD) has received an Excellence in Information Technology Practices Award from the Municipal Information Systems Association of California (MISAC)—a statewide recognition of strong governance and day-to-day IT operations in local government.

While “information technology” may sound behind-the-scenes, it plays a direct role in how SMWD serves customers every day. The technology SMWD uses helps protect critical infrastructure, supports efficient operations, and strengthens the District’s ability to respond promptly and deliver high-quality drinking water, wastewater, and recycled water services.

What the award recognizes

MISAC’s Excellence in IT Practices Award recognizes agencies whose IT governance and operational practices meet or exceed local government standards. The evaluation examines IT practices across multiple subject areas, such as planning, budgeting, operations, cybersecurity, and disaster preparation and recovery.

More than a single project, this recognition reflects how an organization plans, protects, maintains, and improves the technology that supports essential public services.

Why it matters to SMWD customers

For customers, reliable water and wastewater service depends on a vast system of infrastructure—and the technology that supports it. IT helps SMWD monitor and manage systems, protect digital tools against evolving threats, and keep key services running during disruptions.

Strong IT practices also support practical improvements that customers can feel:

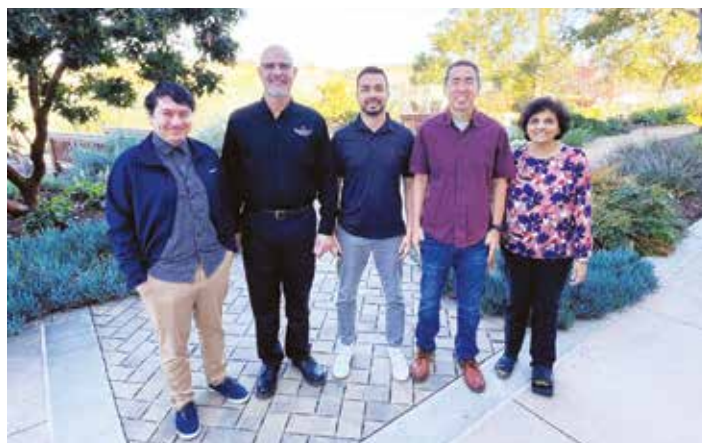

- Faster response and service continuity when issues arise
- Better protection of systems that support operations and customer services
- Smarter planning and coordination for upgrades and improvements over time

A recognition of strong operations According to Dustin Navarro, SMWD’s IT Manager:

“The recognition affirms the strength of SMWD’s IT program and day-to-day operations, highlighting our resilient technology practices that help protect critical infrastructure and support reliable customer service across MISAC’s evaluation areas.”

This distinction matters because it highlights consistent performance—how the IT team supports the District every day, across many systems and responsibilities, rather than one isolated initiative.

Culture of Continuous Improvement Technology changes fast—so maintaining high standards requires an approach that’s steady, agile, and always evolving. Navarro describes SMWD’s mindset as continuous improvement:

“We focus on getting better every day. Because technology and the business processes it supports are constantly changing, we stay agile so we can meet the District’s needs and adopt improvements quickly.”

That continuous-improvement approach aligns with what MISAC is designed to promote: agencies learning from peers, strengthening practices, and using technology strategically to enhance public service.

What it takes to earn recognition like this

MISAC’s award process is intentionally rigorous. Agencies provide detailed documentation and responses that reflect how they run technology services—often including strategic planning, operational standards, security, training, and continuity planning.

For SMWD, those practices translate into stronger support for the systems that keep essential services running day in and day out.

THE SYMBOLS OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY

St. Patrick's Day is a holiday known for parades, shamrocks and all things Irish. From leprechauns to the color green, find out how symbols we now associate with St. Patrick's Day came to be, and learn about a few that are purely American invention.

The Shamrock

The shamrock, which was also called the "seamroy" by the Celts, was a sacred plant in ancient Ireland because it symbolized the rebirth of spring. By the seventeenth century, the shamrock had become a symbol of emerging Irish nationalism. As the English began to seize Irish land and make laws against the use of the Irish language and the practice of Catholicism, many Irish began to wear the shamrock as a symbol of their pride in their heritage and their displeasure with English rule.

Irish Music

Music is often associated with St. Patrick's Day—and Irish culture in general. From ancient days of the Celts, music has always been an important part of Irish life. The Celts had an oral culture, where religion, legend and history were passed from one generation to the next by way of stories and songs. After being conquered by the English, and forbidden to speak their own language, the Irish, like other oppressed peoples, turned to music to help them remember important events and hold on to their heritage and history. As it often stirred emotion and helped to galvanize people, music was outlawed by the English. During her reign, Queen Elizabeth I even decreed that all artists and pipers were to be arrested and hanged on the spot.

Today, traditional Irish bands like The Chieftains, the Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem are gaining worldwide popularity. Their music is produced with instruments that have been used for centuries, including the fiddle, the uilleann pipes (a sort of elaborate bagpipe), the tin whistle (a sort of flute that is actually made of nickel-silver, brass or aluminum) and the bodhran (an ancient type of framed drum that was traditionally used in warfare rather than music).

The Snake

It has long been recounted that, during his mission in Ireland, St. Patrick once stood on a hilltop (which is now called Croagh Patrick), and with only a wooden staff by his side, banished all the snakes from Ireland.

In fact, the island nation was never home to any snakes. The "banishing of the snakes" was really a metaphor for the eradication of pagan ideology from Ireland and the triumph of Christianity. Within 200 years of Patrick's arrival, Ireland was completely Christianized.

Corned Beef

Each year, thousands of Irish Americans gather with their loved ones on St. Patrick's Day to share a "traditional" meal of corned beef and cabbage.

Though cabbage has long been an Irish food, corned beef only began to be associated with St. Patrick's Day at the turn of the century.

Irish immigrants living on New York City's Lower East Side substituted corned beef for their traditional dish of Irish bacon to save money. They learned about the cheaper alternative from their Jewish neighbors.

The Leprechaun

The original Irish name for these figures of folklore is "lobaircin," meaning "small-bodied fellow."

Belief in leprechauns probably stems from Celtic belief in fairies, tiny men and women who could use their magical powers to serve good or evil. In Celtic folktales, leprechauns were cranky souls, responsible for mending the shoes of the other fairies. Though only minor figures in Celtic folklore, leprechauns were known for their trickery, which they often used to protect their much-fabled treasure.

Leprechauns had nothing to do with St. Patrick or the celebration of St. Patrick's Day, a Catholic holy day. In 1959, Walt Disney released a film called Darby O'Gill & the Little People, which introduced America to a very different sort of leprechaun than the cantankerous little man of Irish folklore. This cheerful, friendly leprechaun is a purely American invention, but has quickly evolved into an easily recognizable symbol of both St. Patrick's Day and Ireland in general.

40 ARTISTS FROM CALIFORNIA ART CLUB CHAPTER EXHIBIT TOGETHER FOR THE FIRST-TIME IN A GALLERY SETTING AT CASA ROMANTICA MARCH 19 - MAY 24

This spring, Casa Romantica Cultural Center and Gardens welcomes 40 of Orange County's leading artists for the California Art Club Orange County Chapter Exhibition, on view March 19 through May 24 in the art gallery. Marking the first time artists of the Orange County Chapter of the California Art Club (CAC) will exhibit together as a collective in a gallery or museum setting, the exhibition will bring together artists, signature, and mentor members to unveil masterworks spanning landscape, coastal, still life and figural traditions. The exhibition is complemented by a curated lineup of lectures, plein air paint outs, intimate tours and a wine pairing, inviting audiences to engage with the art beyond the gallery walls.

"The California Art Club has a significant presence in Orange County," added Rick J. Delanty, CAC Orange County Chapter co-chair and exhibiting artist. "This exhibition at Casa Romantica promises to be one of the finest visual arts events presented in Casa galleries, and a rare opportunity for the Orange County Chapter's artists to exhibit as a body in a gallery or museum."

Founded in Los Angeles in 1909, the California Art Club has played a defining role in shaping and sustaining representational art in the American West. "The significance of the California Art Club and its role in maintaining a high standard for traditional art cannot be understated," said Jean Stern, Director Emeritus of The Irvine Museum. "Many Orange County representational artists associate themselves with the CAC, making Orange County and Los Angeles the center point for art in Southern California. This tradition is alive and well today."

Select exhibiting artists include Michael Obermeyer, Jeff Sewell, Naomi Shachar, Michael Situ, Sally Strand, Robin Hall, Claire Miller, Brad Neal, Kirsten Whalen, Mason Williams and Ranae Wang, among others. Together, these artists represent the depth, technical mastery and evolving vitality of Orange County's contemporary representational movement. Many have been featured in Gold Medal exhibitions

Rick J. Delanty (b. 1951), Pyramid of Color, the Casa, oil on linen, 11x14 in and prominent regional institutions, reinforcing the exhibition's significance within Southern California's visual arts landscape.

In addition to the 40 masterworks on display, Casa Romantica has curated a robust lineup of public programs designed to bring audiences closer to the art and artists:

- Meet the Artists Opening Reception, Thursday, March 19, 6–8 PM (Free; RSVP suggested)
- An Inside Tour, Thursday, March 26, 10–11 AM (Included with admission; limited to 30 RSVPs)

Reception, Sunday, May 24, 10 AM–2 PM (Included with admission)

All exhibiting artists reside in Orange County, and many have participated in prestigious CAC Gold Medal exhibitions and other prominent regional showcases. All works are available for purchase through Casa Romantica, further supporting both the artists and the nonprofit's mission to serve as a cultural gathering place for visual and performing arts.

"The concept for this exhibition began with a simple question: what would it look like to showcase the extraordinary talent of the California Art Club's Orange County Chapter as a collective in our gallery?" said Kylie Travis, Director of Programming and Operations at Casa Romantica. "The artists were either personally invited or thoughtfully juried by our executive team in collaboration with the Chapter's leadership. We are honored to partner with the California Art Club on this historic presentation and excited to provide a platform that celebrates the depth, excellence, and vitality of representational art in Orange County."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN AMERICA AND IRELAND

Before doing my recent research on St. Patrick's Parades, I assumed, as I imagine that many people do, that the mother of all St. Patrick's Day parades must be in Ireland. In studying the history of the celebrations I learned that my assumption was incorrect.

In fact, the "original" St. Patrick's Day Parade was held in New York, 16 years before the Declaration of Independence was signed. The tradition of celebrating St. Patrick's Day parades began as a response to oppression. An English law forbid the Catholic's parades, but allowed a religious procession after Mass. So, on this technicality, the Irish Catholics got a permit for a church procession. The St. Patrick's procession would leave from the Cathedral after Mass. Therefore the original parades were actually an act of defiance.

While the parades have become an accepted part of the mainstream in the United States, historically, that has not been the case. There are several cities that started having parades in the early years, only to suspend them during times of hardship. The times of hardship included anti Irish sentiment, two World Wars and the Great Depression.

Up until the mid nineteenth century, the majority of Irish immigrants in America were members of the Protestant middle class. The 1845, the Great Potato Famine hit Ireland and close to a million poor, uneducated Catholic Irish started pouring into the United States. The Irish immigrants were despised when they first immigrated, and had trouble finding even menial jobs. They soon began to realize that their great numbers gave them political power and they began to organize. Their voting block became known as the "green machine". The St. Patrick's Day parades became a show of strength for Irish Americans and a "must attend" event for politicians.

As the parades became part of the mainstream society, Protestants celebrated alongside the Catholics and they all enjoyed the party. What started as a religious procession became a celebration with music, dancing and green beer. St. Patrick's Day and green beer have become synonymous. It's traditional in many cities for everyone to go on a pub crawl after the parade and drink copious quantities of green beer, which is simply regular beer with some green food dye added.

While the St. Patrick's Day party reigned in American, the Irish observed St Patrick's Day as a holy day. St. Patrick's Day had been a solemn holy day for centuries. As a holy day, the saloons were closed, which was the opposite of the parties that occurred in America.

St. Patrick lived over 1600 years ago. He had endured a turbulent life. He was captured and enslaved at the age of 16. He worked as a slave in Ireland, part of that time working as a shepherd. He escaped and became a man of God, entering the priesthood. He was educated in a monastery in France. He was made a Bishop and was returned to Ireland, this time to work as a missionary and convert the pagans to Christianity. He was successful in converting many people to Christianity.

The legend of St. Patrick is that he led the snakes out of Ireland. However, as snakes are not indigenous to Ireland, it is believed that the legend is symbolic. Most believe that the snakes of legend were actually symbolic of the pagans that were converted. St. Patrick is credited with using a shamrock to explain the holy trinity to pagans. Thus the shamrock is symbolic of the holy day.

In 1995, Ireland set up a St. Patrick's Day Festival, with the goal of capitalizing on the popularity of the celebration and to encourage tourism to Ireland.

The First St. Patrick Festival was held on March 7, 1996. In 1997 the event was a 3 day festival. This year the five day festival will feature 4,000 performers, with one millions people celebrating. Events include music, street theater, family carnivals, comedy, street performances, dance, a treasure hunt, night spectacles, and many celebrants.

In Ireland the St. Patrick's Day Festival is an event that draws locals and tourists. The country, with it's long history of honoring St. Patrick and his good words sounds like a great party. On the other hand, if you want to go to the original St. Patrick's Day Parade, New York is the place. Photo by Johnny Cohen

PACIFIC SYMPHONY CELEBRATES WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH WITH THE WEST COAST PREMIERE OF BLUE ELECTRA, A VIOLIN CONCERTO ABOUT QUEEN OF THE AIR, AMELIA EARHART

With exhilarating music that captures the thrill of flight, Pacific Symphony welcomes back global sensation and GRAMMY winning violinist Anne Akiko Meyers for the West Coast Premiere of Blue Electra (2022). Inspired by the daring life and mysterious disappearance of aviation pioneer Amelia Earhart (1897-1937), the violin concerto was composed by GRAMMY® Award winner Michael Daugherty—the Symphony's longtime composer-in-residence—and written expressly for Meyers. Music Director Laureate Carl St.Clair returns to lead this piece alongside two additional works close to his heart: "The Flying Scene" from E.T. by John Williams and Brahms' Symphony No. 4, a masterpiece of romantic grandeur. Titled "St.Clair Conducts Williams, Daugherty & Brahms," the March 26-28 concerts close Women's History Month with a soaring tribute to Earhart, named for the Lockheed Electra airplane that carried her into legend.

"I am deeply grateful to Michael Daugherty for his fertile imagination in creating this extraordinary violin concerto, inspired by American icon Amelia Earhart. I'd never really thought about Earhart before, but I've since become enamored with her personality and brave soul. You can't help but think of what she went through in her very short time on earth. To fly as a female at that time in history in those tiny planes—she was the epitome of courage," said Meyers, who has been called the "Wonder Woman of commissioning" (The Strad) for her enduring commitment to leaving a legacy of music for future generations.

Nearly 100 years ago, Earhart became the first woman to fly across the Atlantic. She was an advocate for women's rights, an aviation professor at Purdue University, and the author of three books and numerous poems. Two movements of Blue Electra reflect her poetry and the others evoke key events—being honored at a "Hot Jazz" soirée in Paris after her solo transatlantic flight, and her tragic final attempt to circle the globe.

"Michael Daugherty served as Pacific Symphony's composer-in-residence and has been a cherished friend and collaborator for many years," said St.Clair. "We've had the privilege of performing and recording a number of his works, including To the New World, which appears on the same album as Anne's recording of Blue Electra."

"The connection to 'The Flying Scene' from E.T. felt irresistible," he continued. "It's also a tribute to my mentor and friend John Williams, who celebrates his 94th year. Together, these works invite the audience to take their own individual flights as we explore the themes of memory, courage, discovery, and freedom."

Johannes Brahms' Symphony No. 4 in E Minor is a remarkable work and has been performed by St.Clair and Pacific Symphony on numerous occasions. Bearing the feeling of living in the shadows of Beethoven, Brahms traveled to a quaint village in Austria. It was there, amongst nature and thought, that he created his fourth symphony, in which many listeners hear his farewell to the symphonic form.

"It will be a joy to conduct the music of Johannes Brahms," continued St.Clair. "When studying in Vienna, my conducting teacher, Walter Ducloux was close to someone who played in the cello section under the baton of Brahms when he conducted his Symphony No. 4. This musical lineage makes my connection to his music more intimate and personal. That, and the wonderful musicians of Pacific Symphony have a special sense and feeling for the music of Brahms, as we have been performing his music together for many years. I hope this will be felt among our audience members."

"St.Clair Conducts Williams, Daugherty & Brahms," takes place Thursday-Saturday, March 26-28 at 8 p.m. in the Renée and Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall. The concert includes a preview talk with Classical California host Alan Chapman at 7 p.m. "Brahms' Symphony No. 4" will be performed Sunday, March 29 at 3 p.m. with insights into the music from St.Clair before the piece is performed. Tickets start at $36. For more information or to purchase tickets, call (714) 755-5799 or visit pacificsymphony.org.

Pacific Symphony's Classical Series is made possible by the Hal and Jeanette Segerstrom Family Foundation, with additional support from Classical California, LAist, Avenue of the Arts Costa Mesa, The Park Club and PBS SoCal.

Her recording of Somei Satoh's Birds in Warped Time II was part of the winning presentation for the World Trade Center Memorial design.

Meyers is the recipient of the Avery Fisher Career Grant, the Distinguished Alumna Award and an Honorary Doctorate from The Colburn School, and is a member of the Asian Hall of Fame. She serves on the Boards of The Juilliard School and the Dudamel Foundation. She performs on the legendary 1741 Ex-Vieuxtemps Guarneri del Gesù violin, considered one of the finest-sounding violins in existence.

Born in San Diego and raised in Southern California, Meyers traveled eight hours round-trip from the Mojave Desert to Pasadena for lessons with Alice and Eleonore Schoenfeld, practicing in the front of the family VW beetle. At 14, she moved to New York to study at The Juilliard School with Dorothy DeLay, Masao Kawasaki, and Felix Galimir; signed with management at 16; and recorded her debut album at 18 at Abbey Road Studios.

Food lovers, philanthropists, and Orange County's culinary elite gathered recently at the Irvine Marriott for one of the region's most delicious fundraisers, the annual Table for Ten, benefiting Saddleback College Foundation's Pascal Olhats Scholarship Fund. The elegant evening, expertly executed and produced by Kristin Martin of KM Productions, the visionary behind many transformative events, brought together some of California's most respected chefs, restaurants, and culinary partners to create an unforgettable dining experience while supporting the next generation of culinary talent.

The festivities began with a lively cocktail reception, where guests mingled with chefs and sampled an impressive array of bites and beverages from local culinary partners. Among those participating were Butterfight, Chris Hamilton Wines, Dos Gabachos Mezcal, Enebla, Gamba Winery, Golden Eagle Vodka, Hi-Time Wine Cellars, Lando Wines, Melissa's Variety Produce, Mochimas, OC Local Honey, Savage Rabbit, Sugar & Grain, Three Pug Bakery, and U4U Chocolates. Guests also enjoyed refreshing Italian sparkling beverages from San Pellegrino, presented by Laura Cantarini and her team, who offered favorites such as Aranciata and Limonata, which quickly became a popular refreshment during the reception.

Adding to the excitement were the event's popular auction offerings, where guests eagerly bid on exclusive experiences including private chef dinners, curated wine tastings, luxury dining packages, and other culinary adventures, all benefiting scholarships for Saddleback College culinary students.

When the ballroom doors opened, guests were seated at beautifully designed tables hosted by participating chefs, each preparing a custom multi-course dining experience for just ten guests. More than 50 culinary arts students assisted the chefs throughout the evening, representing both Saddleback College and Orange Coast College.

The event featured an impressive lineup of restaurants and culinary teams including AnQi, Catered Courses, Crustacean Beverly Hills, Duvall's Dishes, Harvest Restaurant at The Ranch Laguna Beach, Irvine Marriott, Long Beach Yacht Club, Lorea at Pasea Hotel, Macheen, Pacific Pearl, Pendry Newport Beach, Renaissance Newport Beach, Santa Ana Country Club, The Inn at the Mission San Juan Capistrano, The Mayor's Table at Lido House, Tableau Kitchen & Bar, The Reserve, The White Rooster, Thyme Well Spent, VEA Newport Beach, Westdrift Hotel and WaterTable at the Hyatt Huntington Beach.

I had the pleasure of dining at a table hosted by Chef Charly Houegban, The Reserve/Tableau Kitchen & Bar, whose creative menu quickly became one of the evening's highlights.

Chef Charly delighted guests with a thoughtfully curated multi-course experience beginning with a vibrant mushroom banh mi layered with pickled onions, cucumber, cilantro, shaved carrots, and sesame dressing, paired with a crisp Chateau Clarettes Rosé 2024. The evening continued with a refreshing wild rocket salad and a braised nectarine salad, accented with avocado, edamame, and a blood orange vinaigrette. The standout entrée featured charred Spanish octopus served with grilled radicchio, green grapes, baby bell peppers, and basil sabayon, paired with Chinon AOC Clos de la Collarderie 2015. The sweet finale included hazelnut gooey butter bombolini, Dubai pistachio mousseline with chocolate wafer, matcha chocolate bonbons, and fresh blackberries.

Chef Charly also incorporated San Pellegrino sparkling beverages, supplied by Laura Cantarini and her team, into the evening's pairings and cocktails, adding bright citrus notes that complemented the bold international flavors of the menu.

Chef Charly explained that the dishes he prepared for the evening reflected his international culinary background. "I call the menu eclectic," he said. "It's really international flavors on one canvas. My cuisine is a reflection of the places I've worked and the flavors that inspire me."

Although Chef Charly now resides in Missouri, he still makes the trip back to Southern California each year to participate in the event. "I've been doing this with Kristin/KMProductions for a long time, so there was no way I could miss this opportunity," he said. "I flew in just for this event."

For the evening's dinner service, Chef Charly was joined in the kitchen by several Saddleback College culinary students who volunteered to help execute the meal, giving them valuable hands-on experience working alongside a professional chef.

By the end of the evening, guests departed inspired, well-fed, and proud to support the next generation of culinary talent at Saddleback College. For those who missed this delicious evening, mark your calendars for next year's Table for Ten and visit tableforten.org for more information.
